Title: Human Intelligence and Social morality

In current scenario, human's intelligence can be used to build social morality in them. It can be done by the career building and to use intelligence for inducing social values in humans. Historically, social character building was the responsibility of religious institutions, but they failed to achieve this. Resultantly, human's struggled for power and powerful men did not value the principles of societal norms. Men believed, power is everything and this attitude of a man lead towards greater devastation of the society. Author hope, ~~it~~ it can be reversed with the help of educational institutions will to induce social morality in human intelligence. Hence, it is a need of hour to find ways to induce social empathy in human's to reduce the further exploitation of the societal norms and values.
