

Precis 2015

Title:

Social morality's need to train
Human

The only protection for a man, is to discover <sup>a</sup> human's intelligence. It must include the development of social morality. But this is a challenge for educators and educational institutions. Initially, the responsibility of social morality was left to religion and churches. But <sup>the</sup> history is a proof of their failure. The educator and educational institutions must have to become a part of human intelligence to bring social morality. There is a dire need to find a new way to train human beings.

Total words of Passage = 238

Expected words = 79

My precis = 81

Precis 2013

Title:

Social and Cultural Problems of former colonies

In human societies, culture has two aspects; external and internal. Cultural problems, cannot be solved in isolation from social problems. These problem originate from the period of imperialist and colonialist domination between sixteenth and nineteenth centuries, European imperialism was deep rooted in different countries. Some countries were developed into feudal societies. And others had to made effort for their progress. Their social and cultural development were frozen till the emergence of political independence. The culture of these feudal societies was restricted to privileged class. While tribal societies had no intellectual content. Both these societies were engaged in their respective rivals. It was advised to the new-born countries that ~~the~~ the vertical and horizontal fragmentation of societies were a result of colonialist and imperialist domination.

words of passage = 363

Expected words for

precis = 121

my precis' words = 124

Date: _____

Precis 2012

Title:

Population's problem needs to be resolved

The worst problem of today's world is to neglect the question of population. For a state, the regulation of population is very necessary. Limited population increase the high standard of living. This fact is realized by the countries of developed world and they will limit their populations while underdeveloped countries do not. And their failure to control population will become a burden on national resources. There is need to understand the importance of this problem. But politicians, employers, militarist and revolutionist are paying no attention to this problem. Because all of them is believing the right of unlimited procreation

Passage's words = 300
Expected words of
Precis = 100
words of my precis =
99

Precis 2010

Title:

Causes of unhappiness and its remedy

Envy is a bad habit of man. Envious man harms others as much as he can. He always feels jealous with others. But he cannot do any harm. He cannot explain the happiness of others. For increasing happiness one should admire other's qualities. The remedy of envy is to become selfless and find happiness in life. But envy and happiness cannot exist together. For happiness envy should be left. It is a time consuming process to eradicate envious feeling.