

Reason of Failure of Democracy in Pakistan:-

I Introduction:-

Democracy has been failed in prevailing in Pakistan due to various political turmoils, social, economic and interruption of feudal culture in politics of Pakistan.

II Reasons of failure of democracy.

A - Leadership vacume

B - delay in making of constitution of Pakistan.

1. causes of delay in constitution making.

C. military interruption in Pakistan's politics.

D. Role of feudal lords

E. Fall of Dhaka or sepration of East Pakistan.

F. High illitarcy rate in Pakistan

G. Conflict between political parties.

H - Role of Judiciary

I - High Corruption

J - War on Terror

economic loss due to war against terrorism.

K - Biased media

L - Institutional instability

M - Rigging in election.

N - International involvement or foreign involvement in weakening Pakistan's democracy.

O - Less right of women for subjugate.

III Measures to promote democracy

A. Application of Islamic rules and laws in country.

B. Ensure youth participation in governmental election

C. Women empowerment for political participation.

D. Promotion of education

E. Accountability and transparency.

F. Active media

Positive role of Judiciary

Conclusion

Introduction

After the emergence of Pakistan, political leaders failed in framing the constitution of Pakistan till nine years. So the Pakistan's dominion worked under the act of 1935 of India. Pakistan faced many turmoil conditions and democracy could not flourish here. Although, it was aimed to make Pakistan as an Islamic democratic state but unfortunately, it was ruled by several military dictators. These military dictators came to throne by promising that they would bring democratic principles in this country but they only enjoyed absolute power. Democracy failed due to civil-military bureaucrats, corruption, leadership vacuum, feudal lords, clashes of political parties, biased role of judiciary and media.