

Fluctuation in Automobile Prices

Due to unfairness in domestic automobiles market there is a increase in prices of vehicles. Also the monetary policy is one of the state bank high rates. Cars sales decreases due to which vehicle companies decided to close the plant. The car affordability is one of the way of checking the economic condition of the country. Cars sales are decreased as compare to the last year. This tells the person how quickly their wealth value is decreasing. Because of the bad policies they are failed in production. The policy to include foreign players still fail to fulfill the affordability criteria. They are not focusing on providing the affordable products.

Total Word : 380

Precis : 118