

Political Instability weighs heavily on Pakistan's economy

Outline

1. Introduction
2. Grave impact of political instability on economy of Pakistan
3. How political instability has impacted economy of Pakistan
 - a. Policy making to counter opponent political parties
 - b. Holding rather than finishing previous projects
 - c. Refusal of IMF to release tranche amid political instability
 - d. Delay of help from other countries
 - e. Declining foreign exchange reserves
 - f. Trickle down impacts on imports and exports
 - g. Effect on life standard of people and hike in prices
 - h. Petrol prices and energy crisis
 - i. Policies regarding water storage and conservation and impacts
 - j. Political polarization and erupting violence in society; a loss to economy
 - k. Technological developments and political instability

Political Instability

4. Stabilizing economy in the unstable/volatile political environment
- a. One economic agenda of all political parties to lead to economic prosperity
 - b. Stabilizing dollar and reforming economic structure
 - c. Enhancing exports as a long term solution
 - d. Technological development to gain more from resources

5. Conclusion

- a. Refusal of IMF to release funds
- b. Delay of help from other countries
- c. Depleting foreign exchange reserves
- d. Trickle down impacts on welfare and growth
- e. Effect on life standards of people and rise in prices
- f. Fiscal deficit and rising debt
- g. Policies regarding water storage and conservation and impact
- h. Political polarization and emptying of society's resources