Title:— Importance of Rules

Rules In an organization resolve most of the ordinary matters without Involvement of the manager. Rules define the limit of workers and management. Furthermore, rules act like a binding force between employee and employer, and subject to change. However, too—rule bound organization faces weaker employer and employee relation, and unpleasant situation. Management should make essential and rational rules only so everyone follows them easily.