

Title :- Sources of Pleasures and Fears

Pleasure decides the purpose of life. The Principles of Pleasures effect the mentality and also the major and minor activities of world. But it is impossible to run the world according to it. Pleasure of man was not included in the course of creation. Happiness is a short phenomena comes from fulfilment of needs. Man is made to extract happiness from contrast between little things. Sadness is easy to experience. Person in this world is afraid of his body, from external world and from his ~~experiences~~ relations because body may die, world would cause damage and relations to other world is the most painful.
