

Global trade and trade policies of China

Outline

1. Introduction

2. Trade <sup>Thesis statement</sup> and its types

3. Current situation of Global and Chinese trade volume

4. Characteristics of Global trade

a) Immobility of factors like labor and wealth

b) Heterogenous markets and different Political units in global trade

c) different national policies and government interference in global trade

d) Enhanced wealth and larger output

e) Larger market size and better international politics.

5. Salient features of Chinese Trade policies

a) China is driving for self-sufficiency to continue its economic development

b) Enhancing national security in terms of economic growth

- c) Market Reforms and its opening to ease trade
- d) China is providing subsidies to domestic industries
- e) Pushing for more exports while reducing its imports
- f) Building the global infrastructure through Mega projects to ease trade
- g) China is pushing towards Innovation Led growth.

6. Criticism on Chinese trade policies by competing countries

- a) China prohibits foreign investment
- b) China is pursuing forced technology transfer which is against the rules of Global trade
- c) Market barriers in the trade policy of China which hinder the global trade.

7. Conclusion

Thesis Statement

Global trade is increasing day by day and China is playing its role in this trade through its policies. China has become a giant economic power due to its commitments and firm policies. China should adhere to rules of global trade to play its role constructively.