Introduction:

"Man was born free and Everywhere he is in chains" (Jean-Jacques Rousseau).

In this quote Rousseau tries to state that all humans are born with equal rights but some are deprived of these rights and enslaved by the chains of compulsion force. Such as individual efforts for survive one the more lives ~~are~~ in various conditions. Similarly as a state only concentrate for its nation to provide protection of sovereignty. In global everyone and everything is connected and isolate with each other.
