

Topic: Academic performance decline owing to social media

Topic Sentence:

Spending too much time on social media decreases academic performance of youth.

Explanatory/reasoning sentence:

It has been noted that social media has distracted the students for academic studies.

Supporting point:

The abundance of information on social media entices youth to spend more time online, leading to distraction and less time devoted to studies.

Example/evidence:

The International journal of advanced information technology revealed that excessive use of social media causes distraction and loss of attention among youth, eventually leading to a decline in academic performance.

Supporting point 2(optional):

Youth addicted to social media find themselves compelled to use it even during live classes in colleges and universities. As a consequence, their focus on studies diminishes, leading to a decline in academic performance.

Evidence/example:

For instance, PUBG, an online gaming platform, imprisons the youth to the extent that the youth spend their most of time on the game even neglecting meals and resulting in health complications and loss of precious time.

Concluding sentence:

Therefore, social media undermines the academic performance of the youth.

Academic performance decline owing to social media

Spending too much time on social media decreases academic performance of youth. It has been noted that social media has distracted the students for academic studies. The abundance of information on social media entices youth to spend more time online, leading to distraction and less time devoted to studies. The International journal of advanced information technology revealed that excessive use of social media causes distraction and loss of attention among youth, eventually leading to a decline in academic performance. Youth addicted to social media find themselves compelled to use it even during live classes in colleges and universities. As a consequence, their focus on studies diminishes, leading to a decline in academic performance. For instance, PUBG, an online gaming platform, imprisons the youth to the extent that the youth spend their most of time on the game even neglecting meals and resulting in health complications and loss of precious time. Therefore, social media undermines the academic performance of the youth.