Title: Laziness: Do less harm to world

According to author, every evil in the world exists only because of human activeness and doing. Every person in the world is busy in doing something and laziness is not encouraged. Due to human activeness, world is confronting challenging situations. This is because humans are lacking goods deeds, kindness and are utilizing their energies in wrong directions. Further, peoples are rushing in conferences and meetings but it is not bringing peace in world. However, if laziness is not considered as crime, the situation in world would be different. As sometimes laziness help people to recover their psychological wellbeing. For that people have to practice laziness in life.
