

Changing world order and foreign policy of Pakistan

Outline

1. Introduction

Thesis statement: Many countries, including Pakistan, are altering their foreign policies in accordance with changing world order. In doing so, they can achieve their national interests. However, Pakistan can take more advantages if it takes a few prudent steps while molding its foreign policy.

2. Correlation between changing world order and foreign policy of Pakistan

3. To achieve their national interests, countries are changing their foreign policies

- a) Countries are fighting trade wars
- b) The US is wishing to end conventional wars
- c) Afghanistan is not interested in confrontation
- d) India wants to have cordial ties with all the rich countries
- e) European countries are yearning for maintaining friendly ties with maximum states
- f) Arab countries are preferring their national interest to anything else
- g) KSA has decided to leave its old way of confrontation with Iran

4. How Pakistan is molding its foreign policy according to the changing world order

- a) Pakistan is shifting its policy towards geoeconomic
- b) Pakistan is refusing the unfair demands of the US
- c) Pakistan is ready to work with all the countries of the world
- d) Pakistan wants to have cordial ties with all Muslim countries
- e) Pakistan is not supporting any Muslim country in its war with other Muslim country
- f) Pakistan is playing role in regional connectivity

5. Recommendations for Pakistan to run its foreign policy

- a) Pakistan must try to become the part of B3W along with BRI
- b) Pakistan must try to trade with India
- c) Pakistan must take economic benefits from the resources of Afghanistan
- d) Pakistan must not restrict its relations to specific countries

6. Conclusion