

• Sentence Correction Practice 1

Have either of you seen my pen?

Has either of you seen my pen?

1. Each furniture in this display is on sale for half price.

All furniture, in this display is on sale for half price.

2. Enclosed with this letter was a signed affidavit and a carbon copy of his request to our main office.

Enclosed with this letter were a signed affidavit and a carbon copy of his request to our main office.

4. Many a speechless nights she spent.

Many a speechless night she spent.

5. Nothing but novels please me.

Nothing but novel pleases me.

- Either of these three Umbrellas will suit me.

Either of these two umbrellas will suit me.

He doesnot have some devotion to his studies.

He doesnot has any devotion to his studies.

He thinks that his writing is better than his friend.

He thinks that his writting is better than that of his friend.

7. We are going to the concert, and so ^{they} are.
We are going to the concert, and so are they.

10. Playing a game regularly is better than to read books always.

Playing a game regularly is better than reading books always.

11. He's anxious not only to acquire knowledge, but also eager to display it.

He's not only anxious to acquire knowledge, but also eager to display it.

12. People have and still do disagree on this matter.

People have disagreed and still do disagree on this matter.

13. He's waiting for better and promising opportunities.

He's waiting for better and more promising opportunities.

14. A good reader must be hardworking and possess intelligence.

A good reader must be hardworking and intelligent.

15. On attempting to restore the picture to its original condition, almost irreparable change was discovered.

On attempting to restore the picture to its original condition, he discovered almost irreparable change.

16. He brought the article to the market which he wanted to sell.

He brought the article which he wanted to sell to the market.

17. My friend is very ill. I hope he will die.
My friend is very ill. I fear he will ^{soon} die.

18. The teacher gave the boy an advice which he refused.

The teacher gave the boy an advice which he refused to accept.

19. He sent a verbal message to my friend.

He sent an oral message to my friend.

20. This house is built of bricks and stones.

This house is built of brick and stone.