

The Pakistan's ruling elites so many times highlighted to end extremism from society. However, the activities of these extremists under the nose of this elite ruling class, shows their non-seriousness. The soft target for these extremists is Ahmadi Community. According to the report TLP is leading a campaign on social media to damage the worship places of Ahmadis in different part of the country. Apart from demolishing their worship places, the same group led a campaign to not let this community to sacrifice animals at Eid. These attacks not make soft image of country internationally. The UN's Commission for Human Right ~~are~~ have written a letter to Pakistan representative ~~at~~ in UN and showed their concerned about these violent attacks. In last few days, ~~two~~ consecutive attacks were witnessed in Sindh, where two temples were damaged. The government ~~has~~ to take practical step to stop these extremists, other will challenge the elite class as well one day. If the government wants to make soft image of Pakistan, they will seriously protect minority and their worship place.
