

TOPIC: Man is born free but everywhere he is in Chains.

Outline:

1. Introduction

Thesis statement: Freedom is essential for peaceful life. A man, born in this world, is without any chains or fetters, but with the passage of time his freedom is compromised. Hence, there are some internal and external factors that made free born man to a fettered man.

2. Historical Background of the axioms: Social Contract Theory of Jean-Jacques Rousseau

3. Understanding the concept of Freedom and chains

a) Freedom, a right to act speak or think as one want

b) Chains are the restrictions that bound man physically, mentally and emotionally

4. How an individual is being bound by chains in life

a) Too many restrictions on man retard development of their personality. J.S Mill

1.1.20
b) Individual has restriction to behave according to his biological identity:
kate millet

c) All restrictions construct a limited psychological level of the individual

d) Individual is restricted by family to spend life according to them

e) Individual is restricted to choose his profession according to the current trends.

5. How societal norms compromise man Freedom

a) Society has chained the human being: Anarchist philosophers.

b) Unaccountable authority restricts man: Hobbes

c) Society has inequality: Louis Althusse

d) societal construction of gender restricts man: Simon de Beauvoir

e) Religious chains of society restrict man.

f) Societal norms does not promote equal rights to all man.

6. How Global values bound the man

a) Global territories bound man at one place: Karl Marx

b) Global laws bound man to compromise on freedom

c) Global trade bound man to depend on others

d) Globalization bound man to compromise sovereignty

7. Conclusion