

Precis - 2002.

Title: Language evolved Humanity.

Precis:

Language gave birth to the humanity which resulted in the beginning of civilizations, in the world. It is the baseline which differentiate humans from other species. So, a man is different because he can communicate in a specified way. Language is a tool which makes it possible to accumulate knowledge and to spread information. ~~The~~ <sup>The</sup> achievements attained by the humanity in every sphere of life were all due to the possession of language.

→ This means that having intelligence can not only differentiate humans from other species.

Precis word count is ~~85~~ 187.