Islamophobia in Western World

Islamophobia is a hatred and fear from muslim community and his religion Islam. It has long history, when entered into post-cold war era, Samuel P. Huntington present synthesis against 'End of History'. Huntington said "Islam is inherently violence prone, problem is not Islamic fundamentalism, its Islam itself." For some it was just scholarly discourse, moving on, when an accident occurred which reshaped the world politics '9/11' boost up islamophobia in western world. According to 'Pew Research' report that 1500 islamophobic incidents took place against muslim community, almost 70% of the world population has extreme angerness. Specifically, in US 66% prejudice towards muslim. International politics is structured on 'the friend of my enemy is my enemy'. Therefore, world considered the US hate against Islam. Resultantly, took place heinous extremism incident against muslims, like UK mosque attack, burning of Quran and vandalizing against muslim in India. Furthermore, some of the western leaders also showed provocations. So, islamophobia is an unfounded and myth based hostility towards Islam, which put the muslim community in burning flame.
