

Choose your ~~enemies~~ ^{wisely} ~~carefully~~ but choose your enemies even more carefully

1) Introduction

Thesis Statement

Life is all about learning and improving oneself, be it from one's friends or enemies. However, the decision of choosing friends and enemies leaves a huge impact on one's personality. Depending on one's choice, the lessons learnt from experiences may last in one's memories forever.

2) How choosing friends wisely are important but choosing enemies needs more careful thought

3) Individual's choice of making friends wisely and enemies more carefully

a) The company ~~of~~ of one's friends influences and defines one's personality

b) A friend can serve as a light or even darkness to one's life depending on ~~his~~ ^{friends'} nature

c) A sincere friend will always extend his hand in difficulty

d) Choosing enemies ^{more} carefully because one will end up being like them

e) A powerful enemy can reverse one's entire world

f) An immoral and egotistical enemy can be a threat to one's family

4) How a wise decision regarding choosing friends and a careful thought to choose enemies can contribute to society and profession.

a) People getting good company can contribute to improving society gradually

b) A careful thought before choosing enemies can prevent from professional harassment

c) A narcissist enemy may destroy one's career and reputation.

d) Choosing friends wisely may prevent one from professional exploitation.

5) Broader factors to choose friend wisely and enemies even more carefully

a) Education is highly affected by one's choice of making friends as well as enemies

b) Enmity based on religious terms may cause social disruption

c) ~~Enmity~~ Political enmity will hinder the progress of one's country

d) A hidden enemy does more harm than the ~~known~~ ^{acquainted} enemy

e) one's political friendship can contribute to improving economy of one's country

f) Choose one's friend considering the environment he lives in as he can be exploitative or toxic in nature

e) conclusion