"The Power of Human Mind"

"I think therefore I am" is what shapes human conscious to take steps beyond his mental capacity. History is a witness to all the incredible deeds that few men did which changed the course of history. From the invention of vaccine in medicine, telephone in communication, electricity in industry and homes to aeroplanes in aviation, man has materialized every wish once thought imagination. It is reasonable to say that man will continue realizing every dream limitlessly. Therefore, man's curiosity followed by his resolute determination will enable him to achieve yet unachievable dreams.
