Subheading: Nuclear challenges to World Peace
during the 21st century (in-text citation needed)

TOPIC SENTENCE

Not only are the nuclear weapons increasing in quantity, but they are also becoming ^{more} destructive than ever. Thus, ~~it can be argued that~~ nuclear weapons are ^{an} ~~an~~ intolerable threat to humanity in 21st century

Explanatory or Reasoning sentence The modern day nuclear weapons have capabilities of annihilating entire cities. ~~The modern day~~ Thus, the nuclear bombs dropped on two cities of Japan might be considered mere TNT's when compared to the destructive capabilities of modern nuclear weapons.

Example! According to Karoun Demirjian, ~~who is a correspondent~~ Pentagon correspondent for Washington Post, the bombs dropped in Japan had yield of 15-21 kilotons of TNT while the modern standard nuclear weapons can have yield of 500-800 kilotons (Nuclear weapons Russia has, October 2022)

Conclusion Hence modern nuclear weapons can, without exaggeration, be considered potentially ^a humanity annihilating threat.

peace is opposite of conflict and human annihilation does not come under a conflict the topic sentence has 2 arguments; 1. number of nuclear weapons increasing 2. increase in their potency, the later para discusses only point 2
