

Q.2 Make a précis of the following passage and suggest a suitable heading. (20+5=25)

Culture, in human societies, has two main aspects; an external, formal aspect and an inner, ideological aspect. The external forms of culture, social or artistic, are merely an organized expression of its inner ideological aspect, and both are an inherent component of a given social structure. They are changed or modified when this structure is changed or modified and because of this organic link they also help and influence such changes in their parent organism. Cultural Problems, therefore, cannot be studied or understood or solved in isolation from social problems, i.e. problems of political and economic relationships. The cultural problems of the underdeveloped countries, therefore, have to be understood and solved in the light of the larger perspective, in the context of underlying social problems. Very broadly speaking, these problems are primarily the problems of arrested growth; they originate primarily from long years of imperialist - Colonialist domination and the remnants of a backward outmoded social structure. This should not require much elaboration European Imperialism caught up with the countries of Asia, Africa or Latin America between the sixteenth and nineteenth centuries. Some of them were fairly developed feudal societies with ancient traditions of advanced feudal culture. (Others had yet to progress beyond primitive pastoral tribalism.) Social and cultural development of them all was frozen at the point of their political subjugation and remained frozen until the coming of political independence. The culture of these ancient feudal societies, in spite of much technical and intellectual excellence, was restricted to a small privileged class and rarely intermingled with the parallel unsophisticated folk culture of the general masses. Primitive tribal culture, in spite of its childlike beauty, had little intellectual content. Both feudal and tribal societies living contagiously in the same homelands were constantly engaged in tribal, racial, and religious or other feuds with their tribal and feudal rivals. Colonialist - imperialist domination accentuated this dual fragmentation, the vertical division among different tribal and national groups, the horizontal division among different classes within the same tribal or national group. This is the basic ground structure, social and cultural, bequeathed to the newly liberated countries by their former over lords.

Précis:

Precis: Title

Culture in societies has two aspects - an external and an inner aspect. The outer form is outcome of inner. Cultural problems cannot be solved by getting aloof from political, social and economic challenges.

At ~~it~~ These issues ~~are~~ started from ~~the~~ colonial domination. Formal aspect ~~only~~ changes <sup>only</sup> if ideological side changes. Some culture are dominance by tribal culture. There is divide between tribal and colonial culture.

It is considered basic structure which have effect on our present culture.

Title: Impacts of colonialism and Tribalism on culture.

title is written at the top not the end
word count is written at end and it is missing
it is essential part

main idea is picked but unable to explain in your own words precise is not clear and coherent basic grammar is also weak 0/20