3. Why enhancing intellectual ability is neglected in Pakistan's education system
(a) Unproductive education policy by the government para structure is completely ignored in both paras,

the topic sentence is not followed, irrelevant material is given after topic sentence

The unproductive education policy by the government is the consistent issue in Pakistan's education system.

There are many flaws in Pakistan's education system, ~~which~~ <sup>such as it</sup> is outdated.

In fact, the lack of education budget makes the infrastructure inadequate.

Pakistan's is spending only 2.8 percent of the GDP on education sector.

These low budget and inadequate infrastructure makes the students non-intellectual. The poor the infrastructure the poor ~~will be~~ more students will be non-intellectual. In fact, the poor infrastructure affects the extra-curriculum which stops students' mental growth.

In short, by implementing an effective education policy and making it first priority it can be productive.
