

Qno#01 What is the difference between Deen and Religion? Describe the importance of Deen in human life with arguments. (CSS-2016)

1. Introduction:-

Islam covers all-aspects of life; therefore, it is a Deen. Although many scholars have argued that there is not a wider difference between Deen and Religion, most of the Islamic scholars believed that Deen is a broader term while Religion is a sub-set of the Deen. ~~The~~ The common differences between Deen and Religion are: Universalism and Particularism.

The Deen provides guidance in individual and collective sphere of life where as Religion only covers ~~the~~ spiritual life of an individual. Thereby, Deen plays a vital role in human life. For instance, Deen provides spiritual nourishment, protect women and weaker communities rights, ensures justice in a society, and <sup>Provides</sup> guidance for a purposeful life. So, Islam is a Deen with a complete system and way of life.

2) Decoding Deen or Lexicology of Deen

Deen is an Arabic word which means way, obedience, judgement, and Accountability. Deen is a way of life which covers all needs of an individual.

According to the Oxford dictionary:-

Deen is a broader term which covers all aspect of life including spiritual, moral, political, economical and social spheres.

3) Religion Lexicology

The term ~~Religion~~ Religion is derived from Italian "Religose" which means to ~~bind~~, "tie back", "bind to" shows an individual relation with god or gods.

Religion is a believe in god or gods for worship and follow particular rituals and dogmas.

(Oxford dictionary)

4) what is Islam: A religion or a deen

Islam is complete way of life which covers spiritual, moral, political, economic, social spheres of life. Therefore, Islam is ~~dean~~ deen. In Quran, Allah referred Islam as deen not a religion.

Indeed, the religion (deen) in the sight of Allah is Islam (Al-Imran)

إِسْلَامٌ عَلَىٰ الْإِيمَانِ

There is no compulsion in deen
(Al-Baqqarah)

Dr Tsbat Ahmed called Islam a comprehensive system which include political, economical, and social system; therefore, Islam is a deen.

Dr Jaber Qureshi :- Dr concluded in his book Islamic concept of deen and its relevance today that Religion refers to a particular set of beliefs whereas Deen is broader term which covers all aspects of human life.
So, Islam is a complete way of life; therefore, it is not a religion but a deen.

5.0 Difference between Religion and Deen:-

5.1) Universalism vs Particular

Deen is a universal while religion is particular. Deen covers all subjects of life, on the other hand, religion only provides guidance in spiritual life. Thereby, Islam is a deen because Islam provides guidance to the whole mankind. Allah mentioned in the Holy Quran: O Muhammad! "we have sent you as a mercy for whole mankind" (Al-Anbiya). Thus, deen is a universal while religion is a particular subject.

Deen

5.2) Provides guidance in individual and collective life while religion covers spiritual life

Deen not only provides guidance in individual development but also assists in <sup>collective</sup> society development. In Islam, for instance, Family laws, Inheritance laws, political and economic system guide humans in collective spheres of life. On the other hand, religion only covers individual relations with his or her gods.

5.3) Deen provides harmony between material world and divine world while religion focuses on divine world:-

Deen provides harmony between material world and divine world. It encourages an individual to participate in worldly Affairs. In Islamic economic system, Muslims are encouraged to participate in business and there is no restriction on profit making if profit business is conducted on fair and just terms. (on the contrary) Allah mentions in the Quran "Our Lord, provide us in this world (that is better for us) and in the hereafter (that is better for us) and protect us from the hell of fire" on the contrary, Religion emphasizes on spiritual matters and denounce worldly Affairs.

5.4) Deen challenges fatalism and Religion promotes fatalism:-

Deen denounce fatalism and encourage an individual to seek guidance from the Holy Quran, and the Sunnah and utilize intellect to solve complex matters of life. On the other hand; religion promotes fatalism by arguing that every thing comes from the god and humans have no role in deciding their matters.

5.5) Monotheist vs Polytheist

Deen, as Islam, is believed in Monotheism which is unity of Allah or God. On the contrary, religions, like Hinduism, Buddhism, are believed in polytheism which is believed in plurality of gods. In Islam, there is strong focused on tauhid concept which said " لا اله الا الله " there is only one God which is Allah. So, Deen emphasizes on unity of God while religion emphasizes on plurality of gods.

6) Importance of Deen in human life :-

6.1) Provides guidance for a purposeful life.

Deen provides guidance for a purposeful life. It assists an individual in spiritual and worldly life. Holy Prophet was not only <sup>also</sup> successful in the religious life, but he was highly successful in his secular life. (Michael H. Hart) (The 100: A Ranking of the Most Influential Persons in the world). So, Deen assists in all spheres of life.

Enhance

6.2) Spiritual Nourishment.

Deen enhances spiritual nourishment through prayers, Taqwa, and remembrance of God. (Allemment)<sup>x</sup> Holy Prophet mentioned that " The likeness of the one who believed in God or the one who does not believe in God is like that of a living or a dead ". So, Deen strengthens spiritual power of an individual.

6.3 Provide protection to the weaker community in ~~the~~ a society.

try to add the arabic of quranic ayats as well.

Deen provides protection to the weaker community in a society by commanding stronger to fulfill its rights. For instance, Allah ordered in Quran "Provide orphans their due share when they reach maturity." (An-Nisa). In short, deen ensures complete protection of the weaker community.

6.4) Ensure justice in a society :-

Islam has provided strong emphasis on justice in a society. Allah mentions in the Quran that "Do not let the hatred of the people prevent you from being just" (Al-Hujurat). Hence, Justice system is a crucial component of an Islamic system.

6.5) Protection of women rights :-

Islam provided multiple women rights and believed in women empowerment. In <sup>the</sup> Quran Allah has ordered the man وَاتُوا النِّسَاءَ (النِّسَاءُ) كَمَا كُنْتُمْ مَوَدَّةً بَيْنَ يَدَيْكُمْ "Give women (you marry) their due dowries graciously" (Al-Nisa). Thus, Islam emphasizes on a women empowerment and provides protection to women rights.

Conclusion:-

To sum up, Islam is a comprehensive system which covers all aspects of life; therefore, Islamic scholars called Islam as a deen. It has provided multiple benefits for the well-being of an individual as well as for the whole community. It gives protection to weaker segments of a society and enhances spiritual well-being of an individual. As Allama Iqbal said "If a religion is separated from politics then you are left with Chingizi (Chenghis Khan way of rule)" (Allama Iqbal).

good answer!!

paper presentation, structure, references, headings quality is good.

however, no of arguments should be increased. add more arguments in both parts.
