

Beauty beneath skin (Person's Character)

The concept of beauty is beyond the realm of physicality, and extendible to the character of a person. It is personality traits such as empathy, kindness, and generosity that shape a beautified person. Similar idea finds its resonance in the novel 'To Kill a Mockingbird', by Harper Lee. In novel, Atticus Finch teaches an important lesson to his children. The lesson of judging others on the base of their character rather than their superficial features. Novel comprehensively portrays that beauty of a person reflects through character. In summary, people with kind personality traits possess a magnificent beauty which lies deep beneath surface.