4: Negative impacts of living together as a global village.

(b) Imposes different sanctions on countries

The negative impact of the world living together as a global village, is the imposition of different sanctions on the countries. It can be for a social, economical or security concerns.

In fact, the sanctions stop the deference and aggression of a nation. For instance, sanction imposed on Russia after its invasion of Ukraine are argued to be the strongest most extensive imposed after world war II. However, the western nations have imposed economic sanctions on Russia.

The U.K government removed the Russian banks from the international financial messaging system, delaying payment of Russian oil and gas. (BBC.com, what are the sanctions on Russia, 27 Jan, 2022). In short, the world as a global village^{is} creating many problems, in a shape of sanction.
