

Q) What is the difference between human beings' fear of death and children's fear of darkness?

The basic difference is that, the fear of human beings is pertaining to the agony of dying man. While that of fear of darkness of children is about the thieves and ghosts, what they have heard in the stories.

Q) What is religious and sacred view of death?

According to the religious and sacred views, death is a sort of punishment for the sins one has committed. Moreover, it is also a way to enter into a new world that is totally different from present world.

Q) What are the painful experiences described by the monks in their books?

The Monks have described painful experiences in their books that after death a person went through physical torture given by themselves. This is a form of self-purification. Thus it has increased man's fear of death.

Q) What are the views of Seneca about death?

Seneca is of the view that circumstances and rituals of death frighten people more than the death itself. A person, after death undergoes through different process and saying good bye to his or her dear ones is most scary about death.

Q) What are the facts that make death appear more horrible than it would be otherwise?

The facts include that a person undergoes convulsion, face appears bloodless and pale. All the dear ones of the person begin to weep, put on mourning clothes, sounds of uttering groans, so ^{including} all these rituals make death more horrible than it would be otherwise.