

Argumentative:

Date _____ 20
M T W T F S

Good governance is a myth in Pakistan?

Outline

1- Introduction: Thesis statement: Good governance is a key of prosperity; but, unfortunately, Pakistan is lacking a good governance phenomenon. In fact, Pakistan is a bad governance dilemma due to several loopholes in policies. However, several steps are adopted, yet needs an effective role of governance to implement all adopted policies.

2- Good governance: a gateway of state's stability

3- Good governance is far beyond in Pakistan → can we use punctuation in outlines? or not

- Continuous massive disasters are images of bad governance in Pakistan
- A long prevailing and crumbling economy of Pakistan
- Poor human capital and violation of fundamental rights are common in Pakistan
- Surge in unemployment - a disoriented youth
- Revival of TTP - a cross border terrorism

4- Good governance phenomenon exists in Pakistan

- Disasters are natural but not due to governance

- b) Pakistan's economy improved even after COVID-19 pandemic
- c) Several policies are framed to improve human capital in order to protect fundamental rights
- d) Merit-based jobs are announced to eradicate unemployment ratio
- e) Certain operations led to counter terrorism across country

5- Loopholes in policies reflects bad governance dilemmas

- a) Disasters are natural but poor governance is also responsible
 - b) Pakistan's economy is unstable and on the brink of default
 - c) Policies are framed but not properly implemented to ensure good governance
 - d) A large number of the poor are still unemployed for decades
 - f) Government is failed to contain terrorism completely
- ### 6- Conclusion

