FINAL DRAFT - PRÉCIS (CSS-2018)

Benefits of Cold in Northern Europe and the life in Tropics

The benefits of cold are mostly seen in the mild temperatures of Northern Europe. For instance, cold climate is like a major obstacle that makes people despondent, while the hot climate is like an absence of obstacles that makes people indolent. However, moderately cold climate is like a surmountable obstacle that makes people tenacious to keep them warm and well-fed.

~~The~~ Contrary to this, in the moderate climate of tropics, people don't have to put in efforts to keep themselves warm and well-fed due to the availability of plenty of resources.

Therefore, the difference between people from Northern Europe and tropics is like us during different seasons of the year as we get more energetic during winters and lazier in summers.
