

Date: _____

Paragraph

Day: _____

Name: Alina Tahir

ID : 29058-Alina Tahir-051

Transforming of Airports

Airports transformation is the need of time for Pakistan. The reason is that grim-faced immigration officers and cold-faced civil Aviation Administration give feel like an aggressive atmosphere at the air port, to the passengers. So, all travellers need to be provided a welcoming and professional atmosphere of aviation hubs. There must be restrictions to carry illegal and dangerous items but it cannot be an excuse for treating ordinary travellers as suspects. As attitude towards the airport has positive effect on satisfaction with healthy atmospherics (Han, H., Lee, L. H., & Kim, H.-S., Airport Green environment and its influence on visitor's Psychological Health and behaviour, Dec 2019). Hence, friendly environment at airport should be introduced to transform the airports.

Generation Gap as a challenge for Elders

Generation gap is one of the biggest challenge for elderly people. As one grows older, his ideas are often less respected, or not even listened to, as they are seems as old-fashioned. This gap is particularly pronounced with regard to bringing up grandchildren, like grandchildren develop highly amotional relations with their Dadi, Dada, Nana and nani.

The old-fashioned issue has been exacerbated particularly in the last 50 years due to largely to fast-changing lifestyles, dominated by the technological, digital and knowledge revolution (Jan-e-Alam Khaki, Elderly challenges,

June 2023) Here, senior's challenges has to do with the generation gap today.