Title: Training gives a name to life.

Only educated parents can train their children in a beautiful and purposeful manner. An educate mother makes her children strong, confident and dignified from every angle. when parents spend themselves in their children so their success in life is the hard work and training of their parents when they are reaching old age, the first priority of their parents. They must always take care of their parents ~~with~~ sorrow, happiness and health with respect and love. ~~and~~ No matter how much we try, we still cannot repay the love and sacrifices of our parents.
