

The IMF Loan Program has not been beneficial for the economy of Pakistan. It has many reasons such as hard conditions like subsidy cut and increase in taxation. These things decrease the cheap production of results and ultimately Pakistan loses competition in the international market. As Pakistan has got to IMF for 23 times, still Pakistan is facing acute economic crises. So, it can be said IMF has impacted negatively on Pakistan's economy.