

Political instability and economic instability goes hand in hand. Both are directly linked with each other. Due to political instability Pakistan is facing huge economic crisis. Many industries are closed. Their production and many are going to be closed their industries. Like Suzuki auto mobile industry wrote a letter to ^{request} the Prime Minister for not further increase in the taxes on 1000 cc cars. Not only this, textile industries ^{very} badly effected in last two years. Pakistan GDP was 6% in 2021-22 and now in 2023 it is 0.5%. This pushed the country further towards poverty. There will be no economic stability until there is political stability!

Pakistan has completed 50 years of its constitution but the political condition is same as it was in 1970' before 1973's constitution.

The syndrome of personal interests spreading at that time and still it is dominant today over country's interests. There is no respect of constitution. There is only respect of personalities and ^{higher} posts. Legislature, Judiciary, and executive all are running behind their own interests. Nobody

None of the leaders taking country's condition seriously. The sword of country's default hanging on the heads but no one is serious. Everyone is fighting war of their own interests.
