

Cultural's problems of Former Colonies

Culture has two main perspective - an external (formal) and an inner (ideological). Although, formal form of culture organized through inner ideological aspects. Due to political and economic problems, cultural problems rose and it cannot be solved. These problems initiated from long year of imperialist - colonialist domination. In the sixteenth and nineteenth century, imperialism spread throughout the asia, Africa and latin America; therefore, they developed feudalism and tribalism. However, political subjection and its freedom restricted social and cultural advancement. Ancient feudal society spread to small privileges and mixed with general people. Both tribal and feudal were living in the same country-land. Imperialist - Colonist notified vertical and horizontal division among different classes; consequently, it created problem for modern countries.
