THESIS STATEMENT.

1) Why is accepting women's freedom hard for orthodoxy?

Orthodox consider women freedom as an alienated concept that damage the socio-cultural fabric of Pakistani society. Various factors backed their thinking particularly, those include patriarchal society, extremism <sup>and</sup> lack of awareness.

However, enforcement of SDG goal no 5 and measures that support women would be deter beneficial in accepting women's freedom.

2) How can inflation in Pakistan be compared to inflation in the world.

Inflation in Pakistan is directly proportional to the inflation in the world as world is more interconnected and any international conflict has the capacity to foment inflation in Pakistan. Skyrocketing prices <sup>in hydro-carbons</sup> due to Russia-Ukraine war has an effect of trickle-down to every commodity. Role of diplomacy in the conflict by major powers, IMF tranche to Pakistan, and export-led model <sup>in Pakistan</sup> would improve the prevailing situation.

3) The far-reaching effects of political instability in Pakistan. Since its inception, Pakistan has been facing <sup>political</sup> instability. The effects of <sup>political</sup> instability can be seen in different sectors of Pakistan that has mire their burgeon. However, improving in civil-military relations, providing education so, that paragon leader could be brought up can result into political stability in Pakistan.
