

Precis

Title: Ancient and Modern
Western Civilization

(ii) Western Civilization

(iii) Past and Present of
Western Civilization

Total words: 168

Summarized words: 56

Ancient western-civilizations were inferior and undemocratic. Then thousands of brilliant men were born in the west. Owing to those people, there was modern advancement in the west. In the present era, it has become most powerful and unsympathetic. In contrast, the Greeks were tolerant. The Muslim world was strong enough where different religious people were safe.

Comprehension

Questions:

Q.1: How was the western civilization in the past?

Ans: Ancient civilization in the past was inferior and undemocratic. While the civilization of Muslims and Chinese was superior and tolerated.

Q.2: What are the distinctive features of the western civilization?

Ans: The most crucial and distinctive features of the western civilization are its strength and unsympathetic behaviour.

Q.3: Why was Socrates killed?

Ans: Socrates was killed due to his perception. He had contrasting prospects with many problems from those of accepted prospects of that area.

Q.4: Were the Christians and Jews persecuted in the Muslim world?

Ans: Christians and Jews were not persecuted in the Muslim world, rather they were safe in the Muslim world as long as they payed taxes.

Q.5: Do you think that the Muslims of Pakistan are tolerant.

Ans: The Muslims of Pakistan are intolerant because they have no tolerance for each other. Therefore, the democratic system in Pakistan is weak.