

Title :

Profession is the way of Altruism

Precis :

A well professional men likes their jobs as passion and always doing for to benefited others, However all men living their life in his own ways for that they needs profit or income from their profession and to makes dinner, But this is always not his first priority i.e doctors likes more recover^{ies} of their patients rather than fees, Soldier likes to fought for their patri^otism not the salary and that is the qualities of brave, right trained and well professional men.
