Title:

Work Comes first

The chief concern of well-educated, intellectual and devoted man is not the money, instead his duty comes first to him. The healthy minded people like the sensation of winning. A good soldier is glad to win battles. The clergyman's main objective is to preach and not to be paid. So of the kind and generous doctors, they prefer to cure the sick and save lives. Therefore, for rightly trained people, work comes first and money is secondary.
