

We are not what we say but what we do.

Outline:

1. Introduction

Thesis Statement:

2. Crunch Paragraph

3. Actions speak louder than words.

a. Words are nothing without actions.

b. We are recognized by our actions.

c. People only praise or reward our actions.

4. Necessary for individuals to act upon their words.

a. Actions make individuals different from others.

b. Goals can never be achieved without struggle.

c. An individual can gain trust by only acting upon his/her words.

5. Family is more concerned with actions.

- a. Relations work only when members fulfill their duties well.
- b. Fulfilling parental roles lead to fine nurturing of children, and in response, parents want their children to act upon their words.
- c. Marital issues come when one of the spouses is not serious about his/her duties.
6. Society needs <sup>its</sup> members to actively participate in peace and progress of a society.
  - a. Progress can never be achieved by only deciding rather than acting.
  - b. Societies push backwards when nobody stands against wrong aspirations.
7. Religion emphasizes us to practice rightly rather than just committing to act.
  - a. Religion gives a practical approach by showing the lives of prophets.
  - b. Rewards are for those who act upon right and restrain others from bad.

8. <sup>A</sup> Country can never achieve recognition without any efforts.

a. A country can only progress when its leaders fulfill their promises.

b. Peace can never be achieved if it only remains in agreements or documents.

9. History recalls only those who did splendid works.

a. Leaders do not only lead, but they spend their whole lives in achieving any objective.

b. Humanity pushed forward from the stone ages only because of the efforts made by great people.

10. Conclusion.