Why I want to become CSP?

Everyone wants to be in a job, where one has Power, Security and Future, and it is crystal clear: a CSP has everything, the Individual wants: consequently, Not in the same case with everyone, people have different ambitions in their lives. Same is with me; I do not really want a secure job but, - the ground realities are having another face - to deal with the basic issues. Since I have a poor background; I know clearly, that how to deal/face with the basic things/problems: Health issues, educational - issues and poverty - the mother of <sup>really</sup> crimes in society, it is considered. Furthermore, I do not want a job; which only gives me benefit but other.
