

Date: _____

on human rights would introduce rights and legal-reforms of the society-

In his remarks minister committed to make sure the uplifting of minorities right in the country-he said that international human rights and media serves up as every single tragic incident of Pakistan

But not shows the Indian forces illegally occupied Kashmir-

Laws are Present to award Punishment in Blasphemy - offenses.

Islamabad: Minister for human rights, Mian Riaz Hussain Pirzada, said that "killing of a man in Nankana accused of blasphemy was tragic."

"No one should be allowed to take a law into their hands."

The law of blasphemy has been made for stopping that crimes, and these laws are strict in nature. But no one can use these laws themselves.

Mr Pirzada, said that during a meeting with Parliamentary delegation of all Party Group (APPG) on freedom of religion or belief from the United Kingdom at Ministry of Human Rights -

The minister welcomed delegation and said Pakistan had strong, strategically significant and long lasting relation with United Kingdom.

Furthermore, he claimed that Police had taken into custody many people who were involved. Additionally he said "the Pakistan State institutes and force is fully focused about human rights violation. He also claimed that we are victims of cross border terrorism."

In respect to a question for protection of minorities the minister said that the constitution and structural framework is present in the country for protection of minorities.

He said that it was a fact that whenever a visit of immediate, international minority of human rights expected, an unfair incident happened. Where foreign agencies of hostile neighbours are mainly involved.

Delegation further appreciated that the national action plan

Date: _____

on human rights would introduce rights and legal-reforms of the society-

In his remarks minister committed to make sure the uplifting of minorities right in the country-he said that international human rights and media serves up as every single tragic incident of Pakistan

But not shows the Indian forces illegally occupied Kashmir-

Laws are Present to award Punishment in blasphemy - offenses.

Islamabad: Minister for human rights, Mian Rizvi Hussain Pirzada, said that "killing of a man in Nankana accused of blasphemy was tragic."

"No one should be allowed to take a law into their hands."

The law of blasphemy has been made for stopping that crimes, and these laws are strict in nature. But no one can use these laws themselves.

Mr Pirzada, said that 'during a meeting with Parliamentary delegation of all Party Group (APPG) on freedom of religion or belief from the United Kingdom at ministry of human rights -

The minister welcomed delegation and said Pakistan had strong, strategically significant and long lasting relation with United Kingdom.

Furthermore, he claimed that Police had taken into custody many people who were involved. Additionally he said "the Pakistan state institutes and force is fully focused about human rights violation. He also claimed that we are victim of cross border terrorism."

In respect to a question for Protection of minorities the minister said that the constitution and structural framework is present in the country for Protection of minorities.

He said that, it was a fact that whenever a visit of immediate, international minority of human rights expected, an unfair incident happened - where foreign agencies of hostile neighbours are mainly involved.

Delegation further appreciated that the national action plan