

Service is more important than money.

Money is not the prime objective of the well-educated, intellectual, and brave people, rather it is a matter of making dinner. ~~They~~ healthy minded people who are serving, for them delivering their service is much more important than money. A good soldier is primarily concerned with fighting and winning battles. Similarly, a clergyman preaches without any regard for his pay. So of doctors, who may lose their fee to cure their patients, rather than kill them and get it.

Original passage = 240 words
precis = 79 words

main idea is picked and discussed
over all satisfactory
dont use extra detail in the precise 7/20