

Topic: We are not known by what we say but what we do.

OUTLINE

- 1- Introduction
 - Thesis statement
- 2- Crunch Paragraph
- 3- Transformation of thoughts since childhood, leading to different personal preferences in life.
 - a) Transformation of morals, personality, intentions and profession in one's life.
 - b) Life is equally, "lose it or win it" game for every individual.
 - c) Parental influences have a direct impact on the development of individual's mind.
 - d) Family wants to secure individual's future and worldly success.
 - e) Continuously changing family obligations can subtly or dramatically affect personal choices.
 - f) Elders impose ^{high} expectations on the shoulder of individuals.
- 4- Impact of society on profession and personal preferences
 - a) Is success really defined by the choice of profession
 - b) Prestigious profession vs non prestigious profession
 - c) Herd mentality - blindly following what others are doing
 - d) Career choices for social acceptance
 - e) Role models set by the society to be followed for success.
- 5- Vast array of factors rejecting personal preferences
 - a) Orthodox education in 21st century.
 - b) Religious perspective: fatalism vs hardwork.
 - c) Political decisions impact the preferences of general public

d) Relying on future choices based on trends.

e) Are future choices made by the individual are sustainable for the economy of state.

f) East professions vs West professions

6- Conclusion