

China must play its role in ending Russia Ukraine war. The reason is that it, being an influential country, can convince the leaders of both countries Russia and Ukraine to stop their war. Throughout its history, Beijing, while using its influence, has forced other nations to end conflicts in the world. And it, without any doubt, has succeeded in this mission. For example, in March 2023, China made two bitter enemies of Middle East Iran and Saudi Arabia sign a dialogue for achieving peace (Arif Alvi, 'Hubris and egos', May 2023). Given all that, like ending other conflicts in the world, China must also try to compel Russia and Ukraine to end war between them.
