3: How the world is living together as a global village

(a) International politics among the countries

The international politics connects the world and keeps ~~them~~<sup>it</sup> united. It gives a proper shape of interaction, with one nation to another nation at global level. The main concerns of International politics is to encourage the social, economic, and political dialogue among the countries. In fact, it plays an important role in solving the disputes and conflicts of the nations. International politics is about the multitude of actors that shape our world as states, formal and informal organizations like the IMF, WTO etc. (www.abex.ac.pk, What is international politics, Bill Crates, 2022). In short, the international politics puts the world in proper frame work, where the problems resolved in the specific organization and thus, the world is united.
