

Precis

Topic : Duty is more important than personal desires, convenience or safety.

Money is not a chief priority of well-educated, wise or courageous man. For a clear minded people capital is not their prime concern. The main mission of a devoting soldier is to win battles instead of any reward. The responsibility of priest is to teach religiously but not being paid. To get money is not the basic objective of a good doctor. His main wish is to cure his patient first. Fees is the fundamental right of every employee but sincere people put their duty at the first place.

(92 words)

Shahir Bano Malik