

1-How the world is living together as a global village

a) Trade agreement among the countries

The trade agreement among the countries connects the world as a global village. It can be a goods, services and investment.

In fact, the trade agreement boost up the economic growth of a country. The biggest example of the trade agreement is European Union, which allows economic trade and Labour, capital mobility. Moreover, The GDP of the European Union last year was $16.5 trillion, representing 22.8% of the total world. It gave 500 million people the freedom to live, study or work anywhere. (World Economic Forum, weforum.org, Mar 23 2017). In short, the trade agreement connects the world as a global village. The more trade agreement signed, the more economic growth will be achieved.
