Paragraph No 1

Teenagers should not be allowed to drive. There are too many problems that occur when teenagers get behind the wheel. There are too many traffic accidents involving teens. Also, most teenagers are not responsible enough to handle the financial responsibility of driving

Paragraph No 2

I think it is absolutely important for children to learn to swim at an early age. Learning to swim early assures that they will have success learning to swim in the future. It gives children confidence in their abilities to do things on their own if they can do this one thing on their own. Finally, it will help children be comfortable in the water because they'll have early experience being in the water. So if children learn to swim early, they'll be at a great advantage in the future.

Paragraph No 3

Loaning money to anyone, regardless of his relationship to you, is always a risky move. This is especially true when it comes to loaning money to your friends. What may start out as a kind gesture could easily backfire, resulting in the loss of money and a good friend. However, I believe loaning money to a friend is a good idea, as long as you trust your friend, both you and your friend understand the terms of the loan, and are able to put yourself in your friend's position.

Paragraph No 4

As the old adage goes, "Laughter is the best medicine." Some people firmly believe in the healing power of both laughter and joy and their ability to improve your quality of life. So, I agree with the statement that laughter and joy are essential aspects for living a healthy and happy life. First and foremost, having laughter and joy in your life equates to a life free of debilitating unhappiness. Furthermore, both laughter and joy have been proven to better one's physical wellbeing. Finally, having laughter and joy in your life helps to better the lives of those you encounter.

Paragraph No 5

Disasters are a terrible part of life, especially when one is not prepared for them to strike. A fire or flood could destroy a house and everything inside of it. If there was some kind of disaster in my house, I would try my hardest to save the photo albums my family has collected over the years.

One of the main reasons I would want to save the photo albums is because they contain pictures that chronicle my family's history. Additionally, those photo albums captured parts of my life that made me who I am today. Most importantly, the photo albums are one of the few things in my home that could never be replaced if they were damaged.

Paragraph No 6

My hometown is known for its vast array of restaurants. People from neighboring cities, travel to my town to eat at one of our delicious restaurants. However, my favorite location to eat is not any of those restaurants; it's my grandparents' house. I love to dine with my grandparents because my grandmother is an amazing cook. Furthermore, the atmosphere is much more homey and relaxed than one can find at any other restaurant. Finally, at my grandmother's house, I can participate in the preparation of the meals. There's no better place to eat anywhere.
