

Step 1
Title :

The Power of Language

Man is homo sapien but anthropologists argue that man is homo faber, the tool maker. However, man's ability to communicate is what distinguishes him from animals. Language <sup>has</sup> served as a medium for sharing of knowledge, ideas and information and paved way for a civilized society. Without language, we would be worse than animals.

well done 9/20

Word Count :

Words in Original passage = 192

Words in Preis = 64 ( $\pm 5$ )

Suggested Titles :

Language : The Soul of Civilized Society

Title : An Insight into Man's Complex Behavior

Psychoses and neuroses are Psychological disorders in which a person is taken aback by his ego. When he is unable to fulfill his goals or move on to new goals, his emotional sickness increases. In severe cases, man may resort to violence and in less severe cases one of his four instincts of either thinking, feeling, intuiting or seeing may become dominant. Man becomes isolated and struggles against his ego. Sociologists believe that culture has little influence rather emotional disorder results from man's failure to maintain a balance in his personality.

Word Count : both are done well and composed properly format is good content is satisfactory 9/20

Words in Original Passage = 321

Words in Precis = 100 (±5)

Suggested Titles :

Emotional Disorders : Psychosis vs Neuroses

Psychological Complexities of Man's Mind