

OIC: A completely failed and unsuccessful organization

Outline:

1) Introduction

Thesis Statement: The Organization of

Islamic Cooperation was founded in order to strengthen the ties, bring coordination and instigate development inside the Muslim World; however, it became a complete failure story and largely unsuccessful over the coming years.

2) OIC and its Objectives:

- 2.1) To re-establish and strengthen the ties among Muslim States
- 2.2) To ensure coordination and cooperation among Islamic states
- 2.3) To instigate the process of development inside the Muslim World to compete West.

3) Why OIC became a failure story:

- 3.1) Failure to bridge the yawning gaps among various states that are purely driven by

- 3.2) Rise of terrorism inside the Muslim world depicts OIC failure
- 3.3) Everrising of Humanitarian Crisis inside Muslim countries highlights the incapability of OIC
- 3.4) Global Power dynamics overruling the dilapidated structure of OIC
- 3.5) Immaterialization of OIC agendas in ~~the~~ its real essence
- 3.6) OIC failure to ~~construct~~ organize a strategy for combating Islamophobia.

4) In what ways OIC is getting unsuccessful?

- 4.1) The inability of OIC to raise concerns over the Genocide of Palestinians by Israel
- 4.2) Failure of OIC to issue an organized stance over Kashmir issue
- 4.3) OIC overlooking Afghanistan invasions in different periods is a prove to their unsuccessful story
- 4.4) The hub of Islamic States (Middle East) being exposed to insurgencies and conflicts
- 4.5) Saudi-Iran rivalry and the ineffectiveness of OIC

Conclusion

Inside the corridors of international diplomacy, a grand experiment was launched by the union of nations in late 1960s. All of these states, - representing diverse cultural values, languages and traditions, - came together under the united umbrella of Islam driven by the spirit of cooperation and unity. They established an organization based on the aforementioned assumptions, called Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC). However, as we transcend further, each chapter in the history of OIC represents a complete failure and unsuccessfulness because of its inability to implement its course of agendas in real spirit. Each chapter is characterized by the lack of interest or primarily prioritization of self-interests. The failure of OIC can be highlighted in the realm of ideological perspectives while unsuccessfulness in terms of practical failures. In this way the dignity of OIC is at stake with the emergence of other powerful alliances that further dismantle its potential.