

Title : Lying : A <sup>Con</sup>demned Sin

Lying is a deadly sin and should be punished just like any other crimes. However, parents often waver and punish their children for their baseless acts without thinking of the result that comes with it. The only acts which needs to be controlled are lying and stubbornness. Truth however, has boundaries and comes with one shape, lies are limitless and has multiple faces. An historian in other words said that a company of an animal is better than a man's who lies. Therefore, silence is better than lying.

Total prec words (original) - 285

$$\frac{285}{3} = 95$$

Written Preci words : 99